The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Collins et al. 2004/0160151. Collins et al. teach the device claimed (best seen in Figure 2) absent the plurality of compartments. To configure Collins et al. to hold a plurality of bottles for the purpose of storing multiple bottles would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention.

Response to Remarks/Arguments

Applicant states

the limitations of the independent Claim 1 reciting "two adjacent first compartments, which are equal in length, are parallel and substantially run together with the same horizontal orientation of respective wider area and narrower area, the two first compartments being on a same first plane, and a third, inverted compartment on an elevated second plane elevated relative to the first plane," are not disclosed or even suggested by Collins. In fact, Collins teaches away from the recited limitations by explaining with respect to Fig. 4 that when each bottle 75 is "situated in a corresponding set of opposing arcuate recesses 65-68," the sloping configuration of the beverage rack 40 allows each bottle 75 to be adequately displayed on its own level. See, Collins, par. [0017].

The examiner does not concur that Collins teaches away from the claimed limitations and maintains that the Collins reference would not directly teach the claimed limitations (as in a 102 rejection) but that limitations are obvious in view of the teachings in Collins.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
